We've been posting a lot about adventure tourism activities lately, so we thought we'd slow it down this Friday and get our relaxation on. Enjoying a Costa Rican sunset from the comfort of a woven hammock sounds like a perfect way to wind down a day of adventuring, exploring... or perhaps an entire day of relaxing on the beach? You are on vacation, after all...
